

In the GRAND STYLE of Sherlock Holmes,
RiverPark Center is

Discovering New Mysteries

And in order to close the case we need YOU!

AUDITION NOTICE

Discovering New Mysteries is an exciting new annual festival that will produce more than 12 new theatre mystery works, including the U.S. premiere of a new Agatha Christie play June 12 ~ June 22, 2008.

The festival will produce multiple performances of six new full-length plays and at least six new screenplays. There are approximately 50 roles to fill! The new Agatha Christie play, Chimneys, and a new Sherlock Holmes play will be performed on RiverPark Center's Cannon Hall stage. Two other winning productions will be presented in RPC's Jody Berry Cabaret Theatre, along with two in the Trinity Center at Theatre Workshop of Owensboro. These productions will utilize all-star casts and crew assembled from around the region!

The festival will also include opportunities for other performers to be involved in the presentation of eight to ten fan-favored Widescreen Audio events that originated as screenplays but will become a personal dramatic experience for the audience. These Widescreen Audio events are similar to reader's theatre in the old time radio style.

Open auditions will be held Sunday, February 24th at 2pm and Tuesday, February 26th at 6pm at RiverPark Center, 101 Daviess Street, Owensboro, KY. No preparation is necessary for auditions. but please bring a headshot if you have one.

We are also seeking regional actors, technicians, and designers to participate in the festival.

For more information, or photos from the 2007 Festival, please visit www.newmysteries.org.

If you need any additional information, please call RiverPark Center at (270) 687-2770.